ROSEATE HOPES

Chairman W. H. Andrews Predicts a Boyer Boom,

POLITICAL PULSE THE

Being Carefully Felt in the Western Tier of Counties.

PITTSBURG WILL BECOME A MECCA

And the State League of Republican Clubs Will be the Shrine.

THE BLACK-WALLACE CONTROVERSY

The political waves of the pending State eampaign are gently laving Pittsburg's feet, and the news that the biggest politicians in the Republican party are to make Pittsburg the center of operations for a few days to come has set the boys agog. State Chairman W. H. Andrews, who has been swinging 'round the circle in Western Pennsylvania as the political mentor of Hon. H. A. Boyer, arrived in Pittsburg last evening, and domiciled himself at the Seventh Avenue Hotel. He came from Washington and left Mr. Boyer in the bucolic embrace of that flourishing burg. Mr. Boyer will be in Pittsburg this morning, whereupon there will be a grand official pow-wow. The two gentlemen gazed at the cov squash and the bulging pumpkin of Washington county's rural genius yesterday. But the political pulse of the Washingtonians was very accurately felt at a conference yesterday at which sundry Pittsburgers assisted. The consultation must have been extremely gratifying to all cor-

Allegheny county comes next on the programme, and from this city Messrs. Boyer and Andrews will make sundry pilgrimages to contiguous localities which await inspection. Mr. Andrews said "open sesame" to a DISPATCH man's cardboard, and Mr. James S. McKean assisted in the urbane welcome that followed.

"We are just making a little tour of the western counties." said Mr. Andrews, "and Mr. Bover is meeting old friends and making new ones.

NO SPOUTING THIS YEAR.

"The campaign is fully open, but as it is an off year there will be no speaking. We are quite serene as to the outlook. I admit that I would feel somewhat dejected if we were trying to figure on the other side. An 80,000 majority is not to be speczed at. No: Bigler does not seem to be making much stir as yet, and Representative Wherry's threatened onslaught has not as yet materialized. Mr. Boyer will be elected very handily, and we expect the usual off year majority, although I haven't given out any predictions as to figures. Mr. Boyer is genial and makes friends easily, and we have been received with flattering enthusiasm everywhere. The campaign issues are as vital as those of any past campaign, and we see no reason to look for anything less in the way of a majority than that usually given. We shall remain here or in this vicinity until the meeting of the State League of Republican Clubs, coincident with which Mr. Boyer has accepted an invitation to be present at the reception ten-dered him by the Americus Club."

"Have you seen anything of that $4,000 check which the Oil City Derrick mentioned as the parting gift of Hon. C. L. Magee to the Republican cause before he sailed to face as he remarked: But if anyone desires to tender a check for $4,000, or any other sum, I am prepared to give a receipt therefor with cheerful alac-

HE DIDN'T GET VERY FAR.

Another reporter came in just then and braced Mr. Andrews for an item of import but got no further than the question: "Wil Mr. Bover have as large a majority as Pres Senator M. S. Quay was expected to arrive in the city last night on his way East, but at a late hour had not entered an ap-pearance. He will doubtless arrive to-day. James Kerr, of Clearfield county, arrived also at the Seventh Avenue Hotel last even ing. He had no sooner got rid of the stains travel than Hon. W. J. Brennen, accompanied by the ever-faithful 'Squire Boyle and some more of the faithful, sought his presence. Mr. Brennen paused long enough to say that he thought that Sen ator Wallace was quite right is giving it out that he wanted the Gubernatorial nomination next year." He could have had it when Beaver ran," remarked Mr. Brennen, "if he had come out flat looted two months before the convention. But when he did say so Mr. Black was too far in advance. As it now stands both are avowed candidates, and ex-Governor Pattison can watch the fight out of the corners of his eye. Mr. Black was always a tariff reformer even when championed by Samuel J. Randall. Both Binck and Wallace are popular men. Black's greatest strength, however, is in the Western counties, so that the geographical lines

Postmaster Larkin said yesterday that Senator Wallace had injured his prospects in the past by his extreme modesty, and that he would probably lose nothing by his avowal of his candidacy. "I do not believe avowal of his candidacy. "I do not belie that there will be anything acrimonious the contest. Both men are very popular in the party, and, besides, it is a good ways ahead, and the result of the present campaign is bound to have some effect upon the conventions of both parties next year."

HIS SKULL FRACTURED.

This is What Happened to John Davis While Londing Bricks.

John Davis was hurt very severely yesterday afternoon by a pile of bricks falling upon him, at Keefer's brickyards, on Stanton avenue. Davis was loading a wagon from a high pile of bricks, and from some cause the pile tell over on him. He was dragged out and it was found that his skull was fractured and that one of his arms was broken. The horse attached to the wagon was valued at $600, and was so badly injured that it was shot. Davis was removed to his home in Sharpsburg.

They Didn't Come.

President Mayer and Second Vice President King, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, were expected in the city last night, but they did not come. Their special train was held over night at Rockwood, and the railroad magnates are expected to-day. They are making a tour of inspection.

A LITTLE TOO FAMILIAR.

Two Toughs Relieve a Doctor of His Watch and Then Return It-They Broke Away, but Were Arrested Later.

Thomas McEwen, alias Jack Spratt, alias Black Tom, and another man by the name of C.H. Kennedy were arrested last evening by Detective McTighe for attempting to rob Dr. F. Campbell in a Sixth street saloon yesterday afternoon. Dr. Campbell is about 78 years of age and resides at 184 Lacock street, Allegheny. He came over to this side vesterday afternoon and stepped into McCarthy's saloon for a drink. While there he was familiarly accosted by Mc-Ewen, who began to pluck at his watch chain. This was repeated several times and then the doctor noticed his chain was and then the doctor noticed his chair was dangling and watch gone. He immediately caught young McEwen by the collar and accusing him of the theft, demanded the return of the watch. McEwen denied it at first, but finally handed over the watch.

The doctor then renewed his grip on Mc-

Ewen's collar and said he was going to have him arrested, but Kennedy and two or three other young men who were in Mc-Ewen's company crowded around the doctor and began to coax him off, Kennedy of-fering to pay him $10 if he would promise not to have McEwen arrested.

The doctor declined to accept the bribe and started toward the door with his pris-oner, who suddenly jerked loose and ran away, hiding himself in a stable on Duquesne way. Dr. Campbell then reported the two men to the police with the result stated. They will have a hearing this morning.

THE TREACHEROUS GAS.

Baker Narrowly Escapes Being Badly

Burned in an Explosion. What might have proved a serious accident took place yesterday at Wm. Vogel's bakery shop, corner Bluff and Chestnut streets. That gentleman uses natural gas in all his ovens, and he has been having considerable trouble with it lately. Yes terday he could not obtain gas enough with which to continue his work, and when the inspector arrived they both proceeded to the cellar to inspect the pipes.

Mr. Vogel, however, had not turned off the valve opening into one of the ovens, and when they came into the bakery again after making some needed repairs it was noticed that the gas was escaping rapidly. The valve was at once turned off, and the dampers opened to let it escape. Shortly after-ward Mr. Vogel attempted to start a fire in the oven, and the match had no sooner approached the door when an explosion tool

A column of fire leaped out for a distance of ten feet, and the baker was severely stunned, besides having his mustache, eye-brows and hair considerably burned. The people in the store were terribly frightened, but none of them were injured.

OUT ON A STRIKE.

The Employes of the Evergreen Road Have Some Grievances.

The employes of the Evergreen road, a branch of the Pittsburg and Western, have gone out on a strike. This road is a gigantic concern. It is a narrow gauge and is made up of a number of awkward curves and ugly grades, and its rolling stock consists of an engine and two cars.

It is claimed that the engineer and fireman were compelled to work all day and to alternate in watching the engine at night, without receiving any extra pay. Manager McDonald threatens to discontinue the use of the road entirely if it fails to yield larger returns. This big strike has resulted in all patrons of the road being compelled to walk the ties to get to their destinations.

The Eastern Coal Combination Wants the Schedules Modified.

TERMS OF SALE NOT SUITABLE. Another Move May Soon be Expected in Coke Producing Circles.

BUDGET OF INDUSTRIAL POINTERS

William S. Shinn, the man who is con ducting the Monongahela river coal deal, arrived in the city yesterday morning to conter with the Pittsburg operators about their inventories. He visited several of the most prominent firms, and held conferences with them. The Eastern people, for whom he is acting in the matter, do not take kindly to the terms which the Pittsburg men ask for their properties. The latter want onehalf of the price in cash. Some want part of the balance in bonds and mortgages, and another part in preferred stock. This the would-be purchasers object to, and the agent is trying to effect better terms.

The impression that the deal is going the way of its predecessors and will not materialize is growing each day. Some of those who were the first to make out schedules of their property have about concluded that their time has been wasted, and that the negotations will drop through. SOME ARE HOPEFUL

Others are still holding on to the hop that the syndicate will take hold of th matter, and bring them out. When asked for information they refuse to talk about the deal, and only say that it is progressing, The larger operators jocularly refer to it and say they expect nothing to result from it. They say they must have one half cash or they will not sell. Others are willing to offer better terms than those mentioned

THE MONEY INVOLVED. The aggregate value of the 16 plants is between $13,000,000 and $14.000,000. It will be seen that his share will be over half a million dollars if he can effect the sale. It has been rumored along the river front for the past two days that the deal had been closed up so far as Fawcett & Sons were concerned. This is denied, not only by the firm, but by others, who say that not an acre of the property or one item in any of the schedules had been examined. Before making the purchase, the syndicate would probably send experts out to inspect and survey the coal lands, but as yet this has not been done. The coal operators are patiently waiting for them, but they com Mr. Shinn is working hard to close up the deal, and it is the wish of every oper

A private conference was held yesterday afternoon between H. C. Frick and John F. Acheson, formerly of J. W. Moore & Co., which was sold to Mr. Frick. Mr. Acheson is the Pittsburg sales agent of the new syndicate and manages this end of the busi ess. The conference was held in one of the rooms of the Hotel Duquesne, and when it was over neither party would say what it was about. Whether there was any agreement made between the two concerns or not was a private talk and there was no news

NOT UNTIL OCTOBER 1.

The K. of L. General Executive Will Not be Here Until That Time.

Word was received from the general headquarters of the Knights of Labor in Philadelphia yesterday that the members of the Executive Board who would be sent here to investigate the trouble between the K. of L musicians and the M. M. P. U. will not arrive before October 1. The board meet St. Louis next Tuesday a week, and the investigators will stop over on their way to or from the meeting. If they stop on their way to St. Louis, the matter will likely be settled by the board at the meeting.

MAY'S REVISION.

Her Testimony Concerning Bob Shepare Was Misquoted.

Humane Agent Dean states that May Sullivan says she was incorrectly reported at the hearing before Magistrate McKenna on Wednesday, and that what she did say was that she saw Bob Shepard on a Baltimore and Ohio train, and asked him the location of a certain house, and that when they reached the depot, Mr. Shepard walked along the street with her, and when the came opposite the house she wanted, pointed it out to her. Mr. Dean says that May says Shepard not only did not go into the house with her, but did not cross to same side of the street.

Engage Two Doctors to Loctore Three Male Teachers Wanted. The High School Committee, of the Allegheny Board of Control, met last night in the new High School buildings. The first business transacted was to award the con-tract for seating to Mesare Dunnell & Co. They could not guarantee to have the seats ready by dedication day. It was decided to postpone the event from October 18 to November 1. The chairs will be opera shaped.

shaped.

The contract for lighting was awarded to the Allegheny Light Company. The contract is for 16-candle power lights at ½ cent per hour.

The committee also decided to elect three male teachers, one in the commercial department, one in the mathematical and one as a teacher of language, the salaries to be $1,000 per year. The present corps of teachers is entirely lemale, and the committee decided that it would be better to have some of the other sex.

It was also decided to engage two physicians, one male and one female, to deliver lectures on anatomy, physicology and hygiene, the male physician to lecture to the boys and the female to the girls.

MONEY IN DEMAND.

A Building and Loan Association Increase

The stockholders of the Turners' Build ing and Loan Association increased their capital stock from $250,000 to $1,000,000 at meeting last night. This step was rendered necessary by the many applications which were received from people who wished to become members of the organization. The stockholders think that this change will result in increased business activity and prosperity for the society.

VISIT THE GREAT EXPOSITION.

The Grandest That Pittsburg Has Ever Had. And see the magnificent exhibit of plan and organs at the stand of Mellor & Hoe and organs at the stand of Mellor & Hoene. They have some elegant pianos of the Hardman, Krakauer and Kimball makes, also quite a number of organs, among them one of their celebrated Eolian self-playing organs in a handsomely polished buri walnut case. With one of these wonderful instruments auyone can play the finest and most difficult music to perfection—this sounds impossible, but is nevertheless true—call at their standor at their spacious warerooms, 77 Fifth avenue, and try one of the above organs yourself and see what you can do.

The array of pianos that one sees at the Pelace of Music, 77 Fifth avenue, is certainly gorgeous; pianos in cases from the tainly gorgeous; planos in cases from the plainest to the most handsomely carved, and in all the rare and costly foreign and domestic woods.

Their stock of organs, comprising the Palace, Chase, Chicago Cottage and Kimball; also the celebrated Æolian, as mentioned above, is simply grand.

If you want to get a piano or organ of standard and well known make, go to Mellor standard and well known make, go to Mellor & Hoene's, 77 Fifth avenue, where you will be sure to get just what you want, and at the lowest price and on the easiest terms. Send for catalogues and full description of their easy payment plan; a postal card costs you but a cent to address Mellor & Hoene, 77 Fifth avenue, Pittsburg.
